Gajapayana heralds start of Mysuru Dasara 2018

Hanagodu, Sept.2 (Mahesh &BCT)- Gajapayana, the traditional march of elephants from the forest, began at Veeranahosahalli Gate of the Nagarahole National Park in Hunsur taluk between 10 am and 10.30 am today at Tula Lagna, signalling the beginning of Dasara 2018. It will be the first Dasara for JD(S)-Congress coalition headed by H.D. Kumaraswamy.

The elephants will arrive in Mysuru today and will camp at Aranya Bhavan (Forest Department office) in Ashokapuram till Sept.5 when they will be welcomed at the Mysore Palace at 4.30 pm. Earlier, the welcome was planned on Sept.3 (tomorrow) at 11 am but was put off due to the counting of votes cast for Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) scheduled tomorrow.

The first batch of five elephants comprised Howdah Elephant 58-year-old Arjuna from Balle Elephant Camp, 62-year-old Varalakshmi from Mathigodu and 45-year-old Vikrama, 35-year-old Dhananjaya and 36-year-old Gopi from Dubare Elephant Camp. After the traditional start of Gajapayana, the elephants began their journey to Mysuru in trucks. 47-year-old Chaitra will join the team in Mysuru directly from Bandipur Tiger Reserve and she was not part of the Gajapayana today.

The elephants were brought to the Veeranahosahalli Gate at 8 am and they were bathed and decorated. Along with the elephants, mahouts, kavadis and their families too have started to Mysuru. A puja was performed at Sri Ganapathi Temple at the Veeranahosahalli Gate before inauguration.

Dasara Flower Show preparations in full swing

The event between Oct.10 and 19 promises to be a gardener's delight

Mysuru, Sept.2 (MTY&BCT)- With over 80,000 pots and more than 35 to 40 flower species, including the rarest of the rare varieties, this year's Dasara Flower Show at Kuppanna Park is bound to be the cynosure of all eyes. The grand show will be between Oct.10 and 19.

The 10-day Flower Show is jointly organised by the Department of Horticulture and District Horticulture Society. Lakhs of flowers are being grown in nurseries and will be used for the models and over 50,000 flowers will be brought from many other places for the Show.

This time, the Glass House at Kuppanna Park, also called Nishad Bagh, will be another attraction for tourists. It has been under construction for almost over a year on the lines of the one at Lalbagh in Bengaluru. The landmark structure is located near the Hardinge Circle (now Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar Statue Circle).

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, Asst. Director of Horticulture Department said that the Department will make all the arrangements for the Show and the District Horticulture Society will organise the show and will decide on the main attractions.

"We have been planting flowering saplings in over 80,000 pots since the end of April and beginning of May. These plants flower in 150 days, 50 days, 60 days, 90 days and 120 days. The flowering dates are being recorded to match the Flower Show dates. These plants are being grown and nurtured at Horticulture Dept. Central Office, Kuppanna Park, Government Guest House, Dasara Exhibition Grounds and Curzon Park," he said.

Documentation of Tribal and Endangered Languages

Mysuru, Sept.2- There are about 7,105 languages spoken across the world. At least half of these languages are endangered in that they may no longer exist since they are not being spoken by children as first languages.

Many scholars and institutions show their concern to document, preserve, and revitalise the languages, which are on the verge of extinction. In India, there are very few Universities offering courses on language documentation and the courses are only limited to the students of linguistics.

Being a premier institute of India solely devoted for the development of Indian languages, Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL), Mysuru, is entrusted with the responsibility to create resources for the documentation of indigenous languages and cultures.

The Scheme for Protection and Preservation of Endangered Languages (SPPEL), which started in 2013 at CIIL, aims to document about 520 languages. To begin with, 117 languages have been taken for documentation and descriptions tasks.

As is well known, there are 50 tribes in Karnataka recognised by Government of India, many of which have very less speakers in different languages, for instance, Maha Malasar (36); Vitalia (23) and Kaniyan (413). It is important to document the languages/dialects/mother-tongues spoken by these and other tribes before they become extinct or critically endangered.

With this goal in mind, SPPEL in collaboration with the Department of Studies in Linguistics, Kuvempu Institute of Kannada Studies, University of Mysore, conducted a 'Workshop-cum-Intensive Training Programme on Tribal and Endangered Languages of Karnataka' from Aug. 27 to 31 at CIIL.

The main objective of this programme was to train research scholars and young faculty to cope with the theoretical and practical factors that often arise while working in the field for data collection or analysing the data, like transcription, glossing, data analysis and finally building dictionaries, writing grammars and the ethnic profile of the community.

About 60 participants included Professors, Doctoral research scholars from various parts of Karnataka working on a variety of languages spoken by the indigenous communities and some community members belonging to Soliga, Hakkipikki, Siddi, Yerava, Betta Kuruba, Pardhi, Dungri Garasia, Paniyan, Koraga, Rajgond and Kuruba tribes.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The use of disposable diapers in baby care is becoming common in urban areas. Diapers are also increasingly being used by the elderly who experience uncontrolled urination due to certain geriatric health problems. But there is a downside to all this. Diapers contain super-absorbing polymers, or SAPs, which can absorb and retain a large quantity of liquid. However, they are made of synthetic materials that are non-biodegradable. Safe disposal of used diapers is thus becoming a major environmental problem. In order to address the issue, scientists from the Department of Chemistry at the Indian Institute of Technology, Madras, have developed a biodegradable super-absorbent polymer using chitosan (a kind of sugar extracted from seafood waste), citric acid and urea. This super-absorbent has capacity to absorb 1,250g of water for each gram of the polymer.

She takes stuffed dead fox with her everywhere

Merseyside: Lisa Foxcroft, of Merseyside, in North West England, has been taking her pet stuffed dead foxcub names Baby Jesus wherever she goes.

Baby Jesus was apparently hit by a car as he was trying to cross the road, but he was (sort of) given a second chance at live with the help of taxidermy, and gifted to Foxcroft as a Christmas gift, by a friend. She named him Baby Jesus to celebrate the holiday, and before you start accusing her of blasphemy, you should know that Lisa considers a devout Catholic who respects all religious beliefs. Anyway, most people would probably wince at the sight of such an unusual Christmas present, but Lisa absolutely fell in love with Baby Jesus the moment she saw him, and they've virtually inseparable for the past two years.

Designer spends 9 years to build elaborate paper plane

San Francisco: 25-year-old Luca Iaconi-Stewart, a young designer from San Francisco, has spenat nine years to build the world's most elaborate paper plane, a perfect 1:60 scale replica of an Air India Boeing 777.

He describes himself as a "crazy guy who loves aviation" and, after hearing that he spent over 10,000 hours, for a period of nine years, working on a paper airplane in his parents' home, some people might be inclined to agree with him.

Once he got all the materials he needed, the designer started working on a series of computer drawings, printed them on manila folders, cut them, grabbed them with tweezers and glued them together.

It sounds easy, but getting every little detail right, from the bolts and hinges to the complicated GE90-115B engines and hydraulic pipes, and making sure everything worked the same as on the real airplane, was a titanic undertaking.

Driving licence renewal:
Senior citizen's ordeal at RTO

Sir,

The renewal of driving licence (DL) at the RTO office is the worst experience in one's life, particularly for a senior citizen.

My driving licence due date for renewal was nearing and I had no option except to visit the RTO office in Mysore one month in advance to get it renewed.

My experience started with obtaining a health certificate from a doctor at the crowded Government Hospital, Jayanagar. After the health certificate, I had to go to the browsing centre situated behind the RTO office to get the renewal application filled up online along with scanning of health certificate, photo, signature and Aadhaar card and forwarding it to the RTO online with generating of an ID number.

While applying online, another problem arose with the DL number mentioned on the smart card and the date of birth not tallying (error occurred while uploading the data into computers by the RTO). After verifying with the computer data from RTO, the online system accepted the new data for renewal (mine was the second case of error in data feeding).

Later, a hard copy of print out was taken out from the browsing centre on payment of Rs.100 after which the real ordeal started of moving from one queue to the other paying cash, for photograph and another to submit the application. The whole exercise took me more than two hours.

Is this the way the RTO gives customer service, particularly to a senior citizen? Hence, most feel that it is better to pay money to a middleman and get the work done than face the ordeal.

On one side the RTO boasts that online facilities have been provided to make the work easier, but they have not prevented people standing in long queues at different counters to get the work done. Shortage of staff due to non-recruitment is also said to be one of the reasons for keeping only one counter open resulting in long queues.

If the RTO is really interested in easing the situation, he should allow the online applications along with online payment so that the rush could be reduced and the applications processed with the existing staff itself.

Let the RTO give relief to customers particularly senior citizens, women and physically challenged by opening a separate single window counter.

UPOR: An exceptionally good Government Office

Sir,

The office of the "Urban Property Ownership Record (UPOR) under the Revenue Department, located at Nazarbad is an exceptionally good office with the entire staff "working" without wasting time.

The general perception about the staff of any Government Office is that they are unfriendly, lethargic, undisciplined and demand bribe to execute our legally entitled works. But the staff and section heads of UPOR are totally different. They are all friendly, helpful and working very systematically.

To get my UPOR, I did not face any issues. My papers moved to different tables systematically and no time was wasted.

Public were waiting patiently to get called, as the documents moved from table to table. Nobody demanded any bribe or speed money to get the work executed smoothly. Hope other government departments will also start working like this UPOR Office.

MCDCC Bank Hunsur Branch Manager accused of misappropriating Rs.27.79 crore

Hunsur, Sept. 2 (KK&ACP)- Mysuru-Chamarajanagar District Central Co-operative Bank's (MCDCC) Hunsur Branch Manager has been accused of misappropriating Rs.27,79,60,719 crore.

Manager Ramappa Poojar demitted office on Friday following superannuation and subsequently the authorities are all set to issue notice to him.

Ramappa Poojar, who had served as the Manager of Hunsur Branch of MCDCC Bank has been accused of swindling money meant for extending farm loans, over the past five months.

Following complaints that Ramappa Poojar had used the Bank's money for his personal financial dealings, senior officials of the Bank inspected Hunsur and Bilikere branches of the bank, when the misappropriation came to light.

The authorities found that Poojar had credited Rs. 26,99,60,719 to his personal Savings Bank (SB) account (AC/No. 20313240) on different dates between Mar. 22, 2018 and Aug.31, 2018 the day he was relieved from service.

Also, Poojar had fraudulently drawn Rs. 40 lakh each on July 20 and 21 from the account of Bilikere PLB Bank (007024-2032) at Hunsur Branch. Thus the total misappropriation is calculated at Rs. 27,79,60,719.

The Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Societies, in a report, has blamed Ramappa Poojar and Bilikere MCDCC Bank Manager G.S. Niranjan for the misappropriation, it is learnt.

The report also mentions that Ramappa Poojar had credited money to his personal account from the SB and current accounts of Hunsur and Periyapatna Agricultural Credit Co-operative Societies and also vice-versa.

Following the investigation, Co-operation Department officials have instructed the MCDCC Bank to conduct further probe into the matter and take action against Ramappa Poojar, it is learnt.

The alleged huge scam has come to light at a time when the MCDCC Bank is struggling for repayment of loans to APEX Bank and also for leading loans to farmers.

Meanwhile, MCDCC Bank Hunsur Branch Manager Ramappa Poojar, who is at the centre of the alleged scam, reacting to the findings, claimed that he had not misappropriated any money. However, the money was accidentally credited to his personal account and after it came to be known, the money was transferred back to the Bank account, the next day itself, he said.

Maintaining that wrong entry by new staff of the Bank had given rise to such controversies, Ramappa said he was ready to face any probe, while asserting that he was not involved in any misappropriation of funds.

MCDCC Bank Managing Director Lingannaiah said that, following complaints that Ramappa Poojar had used the Bank's money for his personal money lending business, the Deputy Registrar of Co-operative Societies conducted a probe and submitted a report according to which prima facie found that Ramappa Poojar had misappropriated Rs. 27 crore. The Bank is all set to serve a notice to Poojar, he said and added that Poojar has been transferred out of Hunsur Branch, without showing any place.

Green Anaconda on Narayana Shastri Road, courtesy Baadal

Baadal

Mysuru, Sept. 2 (MTY&BCT)- City artist Baadal Nanjundaswamy, whose concern for society and its burning issues, is well-known. He attracts attention to the woes of the people through his innovative ideas. This time, he has drawn the attention of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) towards a deep pothole by his artwork "Green Anaconda emerging out of a pothole."

This morning, he installed the art work on a pothole at the Narayana Shastri Road-Siddappa Square Junction. The pothole was not closed since months and fortunately, the Police had installed a barricade over it and had placed stones around it to warn motorists.

Baadal's art work looked natural with the snake emerging out of a dark place, complete with dry tree branches placed around it, giving it a real-life touch. The art work, on the busy road, attracted many motorists who stopped by to see it.

Later, Baadal told Star of Mysore that he saw the killer pothole yesterday and painted the snake last night. "I had placed the art work at the place for about one hour. Since many people were crowding the area to see the art work, I had to remove it as it might lead to traffic jams," he said. "Many people in the area told me that the pothole was an open invitation to danger and the MCC had not bothered to close it since months," he added.

Baadal Nanjundaswamy, who is known for drawing the attention of people and apathetic civic authorities through his street-art, had, in the past, painted a huge dengue mosquito on First Main, Paramahamsa Road in Yadavagiri.

The Shadow of Hiroshima

The Genbaku or A-Dome in the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park [A sketch in ink by Girija]; Photograph of the Dome [Courtesy: Internet]

August 15 marks the joyful anniversary of India's Independence in 1947 and the tragic one of the atomic bomb over Hiroshima on 6th August 1945 that changed modern warfare and its possible outcome forever.

In 1945, I was seven-years-old and lived in a spacious colonial bungalow of the Mysore State Railways allotted to my father, M. Venkatesh, an engineer. In the high ceilinged drawing room with teak beams, was a cabinet holding a prized possession — a radio.

Wires for the aerial ran from it to the ventilator near the ceiling. The radio was large with a polished wooden top, a central panel covered with a textured cloth. Underneath was a strip of illuminated glass with the names of stations (other markings and knobs for volume and search. The names were foreign like Hilversum and Grenoble. However, by adjusting the controls one could find stations of All India Radio.

A Radio of the 1940s.

One day, Father who as listening to the radio, suddenly called out, "They have dropped an atomic bomb on Hiroshima!" Mother's stoic reply was that this would surely end the terrible war. Despite whispered conversations, enough horrific details came through for even a child to realise that this was a cataclysmic event for the world.

In 1985, my husband and I went to Japan, posted to the Indian Embassy in Tokyo. Our stay there of three years was both educative and fulfilling. We travelled to see Mount Fuji, to Kumamoto Prefecture to view the active volcano of Mount Aso and the Ice Sculptures in Hokkaido. These were memorable trips but the poignancy of visiting Hiroshima remains in the heart.

We travelled there from Tokyo by Shinkansen, the Bullet Train, a journey of about five hours. Reclining in comfortable seats, one hardly felt the movement of the train except for the blurred landscape flashing by. Young, smartly uniformed women attendants entered pushing trolleys of snacks, soft drinks and O-Sake (a Japanese wine) which is drunk warm to heighten the flavour. The cans had a tab; when broken a warming element was released in a compartment below, heating the wine perfectly.

The attendants would stop by the door upon entering and departing, making a deep, graceful bow to the travellers with the innate courtesy of the Japanese.

Hiroshima is in western Honshu, Japan's largest island. In the Second World War Japan and Germany were Axis powers fighting the Allied Western countries. Hiroshima was an important railroad and port city and a military communications centre. The Germans capitulated in May 1945 but the Japanese carried on hostilities. An ultimatum to surrender was ignored.

On Monday, August 6 1945, at 8.15 am an atom bomb, "Little Boy", was dropped on the city by a B-29 Bomber, "Enola Gay" of the US Air Force to ensure Japan's defeat. 70,000 people are said to have been killed outright with more deaths later from radiation sickness and injuries. Buildings were destroyed and much of the city flattened. The city of Nagasaki was also bombed later.

We went to the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park which was created at the site closest to the blast, a serene area with trees and flowers. A Cenotaph commemorates the war dead. The skeletal ribs of the dome that topped the Hiroshima Prefectural Industrial Promotion building has been retained exactly as it was after the bombing. It is called the Genbaku or A-Dome.

"We went to the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park which was created at the site closest to the blast, a serene area with trees and flowers. A Cenotaph commemorates the war dead. The skeletal ribs of the dome that topped the Hiroshima Prefectural Industrial Promotion building has been retained exactly as it was after the bombing. It is called the Genbaku or A-Dome."

Entering the Peace Memorial Museum took us back to the aftermath of the bomb. Wax effigies bathed in an eerie light depicted tormented figures with skin and flesh hanging in ribbons from limbs. Photographs showed horrific burns, textile patterns seared into living flesh as well as examples of the effects of radiation.

It was moving to meet the Curator, himself a survivor of the blast. I regret I cannot recall his name correctly; but I do remember an affable, elderly Japanese man in a suit and tie, speaking about his life before and after the bomb. A schoolboy at the time, he was in an enclosed room when the bomb detonated. When he came out, the world was transformed. The dead and dying lay among the ruins of the building, the landscape around the school was flattened and unrecognisable. He battled radiation ailments like nose-bleeds and other afflictions but overcame them to work for many years at the Museum.

The heat of the blast vaporised human beings but left their shadows burnt into concrete walls and steps. There are many photographs that purport to show these ghostly records; a man with a walking stick and a man holding a ladder. The most touching is that of a child with a skipping rope, the last joyful moment of a life extinguished.

The Shadows of Hiroshima are etched in stone and concrete, they haunt the mind. May they ever remain Shadows, never again a Reality.

The shadow of children skipping etched on a wall by the atomic blast.

A performing artiste should have talent, not just degree: Pt. Rajeev Taranath

Mysuru, Sept.2 (MTY&US)- Marking the 58th Foundation Day of National Council for Educational Research and Training (NCERT), a function was held at Regional Institute of Education (RIE) auditorium in Gangothri Layout here yesterday.

Inaugurating the programme, Sarod Maestro Pt. Rajeev Taranath, referring to the idea of introducing performing arts as a compulsory subject in schools and colleges, opined that it should be introduced as an audit course with no evaluation process. He pointed out that talent matters a lot in performing arts and not degrees and certificates. He asserted that a person cannot become a good artiste just by holding a degree or certificate in performing arts and jocularly said that such person can be called as Apa'swara' or Be'thala'.

Referring to his career, Pt. Taranath said that he had spent his whole life for music with no degree in that art. He further said that he had not served in any University and regretted that a degree was vital to work in any University and not talent. He asked Music Universities to give priority for practical training and not theory as is being done now.

He felt that the Music University in Mysuru should have been named after Veene Seshanna or Pitil Chowdiah who hailed from city. He added that a Music Varsity in North Karnataka should have been named after Gangubai Hangal.

Speaking on the occasion, theatre artiste S.N. Sethuram observed that performing arts helps in overcoming depression. He advised people to communicate more with humans and not with machines.

Mysuru, Sept.2 (PM&DM)- Alleging conspiracy in the untoward incident that took place near the Government Urdu School Booth at Kalyangiri (MCC Ward 35), former Mayor and BJP leader Sandesh Swamy has urged the authorities to take action against the culprits.

Bijapur Bulls pip Mysuru Warriors by 2 runs

Skipper Vinay Kumar takes Hubli Tigers into the semis

Mysuru, Sept.2 (SV)- In a closely contested match, Bijapur Bulls managed to pip Mysuru Warriors by two runs in the ongoing Karnataka Premier League (KPL)-2018 encounter at SDNR Wadiyar Stadium in city yesterday.

Mysuru Warriors won the toss and put the opposition into bat on a hot sunny noon. Opener Bharath Chipli, the skipper of Bijapur Bulls, who was dropped in the second over at point by Shoaib Manager, went on to score 63. Chipli 63 (53b,6x4,3x6) led the attack from the front along with Mir Kaunian Abbas (42) after the Bulls had lost two wickets for 22 runs at the end of 3 overs.

The Warriors kept picking wickets at regular intervals and kept a constant check on the run rate of Bijapur Bulls. But a late assault in the end hurt the Warriors. Suneel Raju (28) and KL Shrijith (17) shared a partnership of 44 runs from 23 balls for the sixth wicket. The Bijapur Bulls posted a score of 167 for 6 in five overs.

In reply, the Mysuru Warriors raced to 43 runs in 4.3 overs. Openers Rajoo Bhatkal (29) and Arjun Hoysala (21) failed to convert their start into a big score. The introduction of K.C. Cariappa (2 for 23) saw the dismissal of Arjun Hoysala. Soon, Amit Verma was also dismissed by Zahoor Farooqui, who was caught brilliantly by Bharath. With the fall of wickets, the pressure kept increasing as the run rate sky rocketed. Bijapur Bulls were inconsistent in their line of bowling, and gave away 18 wides in their innings. With 48 runs needed of the last 5 overs, Skipper J. Suchith's (34 n.o.) effort went in vain as the Warriors fell short. With seven required of the last ball, Suchith needed to hit a six to tie the scores. He managed to a boundary through extra cover and the Warriors lost the game by two runs. The Mysuru Warriors finished at 165 for 5 in 20 overs.

Both Mysuru Warriors and Bijapur Bulls have six points in their name with a game in hand. Mysuru Warriors are placed at the third spot ahead of Bijapur Bulls who are placed fourth due to a better net run rate. Mysuru Warriors will play Bengaluru Blasters today at 6.30 pm and Bijapur Bulls will play Shivamogga Lions at 2 pm today.

SCORE

Bijapur Bulls: 167 for 6 in 20 Overs (Bharath Chipli 63, Kaunian Abbas 42, Suneel Raju 28, Prateek Jain 2 for 15, N.P. Bhareth 2 for 27) beat Mysuru Warriors: J. Suchith 34 n.o., Rajoo Bhatkal 29, K.V. Siddarth 28, K.C. Cariappa 2 for 23); Man of the Match: Bharath Chipli.

Tigers roar past Panthers

Hubli Tigers stormed into the semi finals of the KPL as the defeated Belagavi Panthers by 44 runs in the KPL encounter at SDNR Wadiyar Stadium in city yesterday. Having put into bat by Stuart Binny, Hubli Tigers found themselves staring themselves at another top order collapse as they were reduced to 33 for 3 inside 4 overs.

Opener Abhishek Reddy (74) and Praveen Dubey (40) held their nerve and changed fortunes for the Tigers. They shared a fourth wicket partnership of 100 runs off 69 balls. Abhishek Reddy 74 (37b,8x4,3x6) played a stroke filled knock and sent a sense of concern in the opposition's camp. Praveen Duby played a gritty knock of 40 from 44 balls. Captain Vinay Kumar (21 n.o.) and M.B. Darshan (18) gave the finishing touch as Hubli Tigers posted a score of 182 for 5 in their 20 overs.

In reply, Belagavi Panthers got off to a horrific start as they were reduced to 46 for 5 within the Powerplay quota of 6 overs.

Vinay Kumar (4 for 19) was clinical with his line and length and caused trouble to the batsmen of Belagavi Panthers.He bagged a wicket in each of his overs. The Panthers, who had to win this match to stay in the hunt for making it to the semi finals collapsed and never looked like chasing down the target. During the match, Vinay Kumar also became the first player to score an aggregate of 1000 runs and also go past the 50-wicket mark in KPL.

With this result, Hubli Tigers secure their position in top two in the points table. Also the loss of the defending champions Belagavi Panthers, meant that irrespective of the results of today's matches, Mysuru Warriors and Bijapur Bulls will be in the semi-finals along with Hubli Tigers and Bengaluru Blasters. Today's results will only alter their positions in the top four.

'Man of the Match' Bharath Chipli of Bijapur Bulls in action.

SCORE

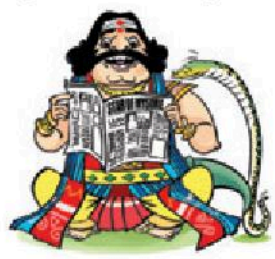
An interesting story on...

Growing with Mysuru to experience it

Being a local newspaper, I thought our readers would like this write-up on our city I received in my WhatsApp. Hence, publishing it here. Happy, nostalgic reading. — KBG, Editor-in-Chief

Mysore or Mysuru, cannot be experienced in holidays or weekends. Like a creeper growing and encircling the bark, you have to live, and grow with Mysore to experience it. You have to be with the ajjis who have seen you from the time you were soooo small, where the maid who works in your house is your family maid, your ajji had "recruited" her mother.

When you go on an evening walk, and the pujari of the Ram Mandir, stops and chats with you, and moves on saying there is a puja at 5 next morning, that's Mysore for you.



When you walk a little ahead and the librarian says he has the latest copy of "Kasturi" or "Mayura", that's Mysore for you.

When the milkman sees you on a walk, and delivers an extra half litre without being asked, that's Mysore for you.

Mysore is when you board a bus at the bus stand and conductor-uncle gives you a ticket without asking. Mysore is when you collect little red 'gulganji' seeds on your way back home from Kukkarahalli Lake.

Mysore is when you come by the Tipu Express, and you find someone going in your direction to drop you off without hesitation.

Mysore is when elephants are marched in from the forests for Dasara.

Mysore is when you wait for your copy of "Star of Mysore."

Mysore is when the English movies are only at Rajkamal. Or Sterling.

Mysore is when you look for your KEB uncle to book tickets at Woodlands.

Mysore is when there are student body elections in Sarada Vilas. Mysore is the eternal SJCE-NIE feud. Mysore is when Jayciana is in full swing.

Mysore is when you got your project report bound at Venkateshwara Binders in Saraswathipuram.

Mysore is having grape juice at RTO Circle.

Mysore is buying vegetables at Agrahara. Mysore is buying plantain leaves in Nanjumalige, savouring the aroma of the agarbathi factory behind.

Mysore is eating ice-creams at Phalaamrutha or Penguin. Mysore is eating dosa at GTR or Mylari Hotel. Mysore is having biriyani early in the morning, near St. Philos Church. Mysore is drinking sugarcane juice near Kukkarahalli Lake. Mysore is munching corn-on-the-cob in the Palace foreground. Mysore is masalpuri at Ballal Circle and Shetty churumuri.

Mysore is when I grew up in Mysore. My Mysore.

Mysore before GRS, before the under-bridge in front of Saraswathipuram Fire Brigade, before Infosys, before Ring Road. Those who grew up in that Mysore will relate to me more than those who came to Mysore, for a three-month stint in Infy. People who grew up in this tranquil will relate than those who think Mysore is a good place to invest or who think chilling out in Mysore is just CCD or Pizza Corner.

Oh, how they have misunderstood my precious home !

I am proud to be a Mysorean. I love my Mysore.

He further said that the seized autos would be handed over to the respective owners only if they get the insurance done failing which Rs.500 fine would be imposed on the owners and the vehicles would be given back to them.

But if the owners fail to get the insurance done and are caught again, they would have to pay the fine again, the Inspector added.

Missing city student's body found in river

Mysuru, Sept.2 (KS)- The body of the 19-year-old girl, who left her Paying Guest (PG) accommodation on Gokulam Road here on Aug.29 at about 10.30 am, saying that she was going to the College and had gone missing, was found floating in Lakshmanatheertha River at Nittur in Kodagu last evening.

The girl is identified as Neha Gangamma, daughter of Prabha and Shyla couple of Nittur, who was pursuing her first year BBA course at St. Joseph's College at Jayalakshmipuram in city and was staying at a PG accommodation on Gokulam Road here.

Ponnampet Police, who fished out the body, shifted it to Gonikoppal Community Health Centre mortuary. Villagers, who had found the body of Gangamma floating in the river had informed the Police.

It may be recalled that Gangamma's PG accommodation owner had informed her parents about her not returning from College and the PG owner had lodged a missing complaint at Jayalakshmipuram Police Station.

Villagers stage protest against Cop for disrespecting retired Soldier

K.R. Nagar, Sept.2 (KTR&KS)- Accusing K.R. Nagar Circle Inspector of disrespecting a retired Soldier, who was being taken in a procession, the villagers staged a protest in front of K.R. Nagar Police Station, demanding suspension of the Cop.

C.M. Sridhar, who retired from the Indian Army after serving for 18 years, was welcomed by the villagers at K.R. Nagar and were taking him in a procession to his native place Chikkavaddaragudi village in the taluk, when they were stopped by Circle Inspector K.K. Raghu, who took the retired Soldier to the Police Station and allegedly abused him.

Irked over the behaviour of the Circle Inspector, the villagers who assembled in front of the Police Station staged a protest and shouted slogans against the Circle Inspector and demanded SP Amith Singh to come to the spot and immediately suspend the Circle Inspector.

When SP Amith Singh rushed to the spot, the villagers complained to him that they welcomed the retired Soldier as a mark of respect and were taking him to his village when the Circle Inspector not only abused the retired Soldier but also abused senior citizens using singular words and added that such type of persons in the Police Department would bring a bad name to everyone in the Department. They demanded the SP to suspend the Circle Inspector.

SP Amith Singh, who spoke to the protesters told them the need for taking permission before taking up such things and added that as no prior permission was taken by them, the Circle Inspector had stopped the procession and enquired, which led to the issue.

The SP further said that every Policeman has a lot of respect to our Soldiers and the Circle Inspector had not deliberately committed the mistake.

The SP later garlanded the retired Soldier, following which the villagers withdrew their protest.

WORD OF THE DAY

Lodestar

Pronunciation: LOHD-stahr

Meaning: One that serves as an inspiration, model, or guide.
Origin: The literal, albeit archaic, meaning of lodestar is "a star that leads or guides," and it is a term that has been used especially in reference to the North Star. (The first half of the word derives from the Middle English word lode, meaning "course.") Both the literal and the figurative sense ("an inspiration or guide") date back to the 14th century, the time of Geoffrey Chaucer. The literal sense fell out of use in the 17th century for the most part, and so, for a while, did the figurative sense—but it appeared again 170 years later, when Sir Walter Scott used it in his 1813 poem The Bridal of Triermain.
Example: Such evidence is the lodestar of the interpretation of the trust.

THE ODD WORD

Zoolatry

The worship of animals.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Young Turk

Meaning: A young person, full of new ideas and impatient for change.

Origin: The figurative expression 'young turks' meaning 'the new breed, impatient for change' began to be used in the early 20th century. William Safire, in The new language of politics: an anecdotal dictionary of catchwords, slogans, and political usage, 1968, referred to a group of US politicians who, in 1929, were called the 'Young Turks'. Young turk Selim III was Sultan of the Ottoman Empire from 1789 to 1807. He made the first major attempts to modernize the army along European lines and to rejuvenate the Turkish empire. These reforms were supported by a band of youthful followers who favoured modernisation but opposed by the more conservative older generation. There are many newspaper reports from around that time that refer to the modernists as 'young Turks' in a purely literal sense, that is, they were young and they were Turkish.
Example: We were sort of two Young Turks and in those days.
